

Wierd foods
by [user] - Thursday, 18 June 2009, 05:52 PM

What's the wierdest food you've eaten? I've eaten rabbit once, frog once, snails once or twice (but I'm not french), and some dried insect once (I think it was grasshopper).

Cow stomach... and not to be picky or anything. Weird is spelled wrong.

I've had cow stomach/small intestine before, but now I don't think it's that disgusting...

Small intestine looks like an ear if its boiled. It looks gross but tastes okay

I'm part filipino, and theres something you always eat there. Its called Balut. Its like a raw duck egg. So, you crack the egg open, put some salt on it and you eat a 'live' duck. its surprisingly good!
until you start wondering what part of the duck you're eating. You can FEEL the beak as well as the hairs on its skin >.<

shiver...

Well, I've had pig brain before, so I guess I shouldn't complain
